Without the two paired Senators they have thirty-six, one short of a quorum. In order to enforce their right to a presiding officer, one of the paired Democratic Senators must be here. Indeed, the expressions of Mr. Dawes, who led the Republicans in the dead-lock of the Heavis and the expressions of Mr. Dawes, who led the Republicans in the dead-lock of the last session, shows almost a willingness to concede the Democratic organization without any struggle, even should it include the Secretary. It is very certain that Gorham, the Republican cancus nominee for Secretary cannot now receive the united vote of the Republicans to elect a presiding officer should the unsworn Senators and probably not half of it. San Francisco, October 5,—A Tucson dispatch says the reports that General Wicox paroled certain of the Indians taken prisoners at San Carlos Reservation is without shadow of truth. The facts are as follows: Mr. Hoag, Sub-Agent, sent to General Wilcox's headquarters for George and Bonita, who were under the safeguard of the Interior department, which General Wilcox had been from Hall, if it were paid him. He wanted to compromise by paying the $25 back, but Hall refused and will prosecute him.

Washington, October 5.—There is an evident wish to avoid a dead-lock among Senators of both parties here. Since the announcement that there will be a certainty of two Democratic Senators paired, Slater and Fair, it is seen that the Republicans can, if they see fit, prevent the election of a Democratic presiding officer by breaking a quorum. The rules of the Senate provide that a quorum shall consist of a majority of all the Senators appointed and sworn.

RETICENCE ABOUT THE GUITEAU CASE.

There is an absolute reticence in regard to the arraignment of the assassin in open court. As much as possible the public will be deceived as to the time so a disorderly crowd may be prevented from assembling on the road from the jail and in the courtroom. Guiteau becomes more demoralized each day. He is now reconciled to the fact that Mr. Scoville will be his only counsel.
